Traditional Carts - "CHURRIÃO"

The Churrião Cart used to be a means of transportation for people as a public service or was sometimes owned by large, rich families for private transportation. It was a very sturdy vehicle drawn by a pair of draught animals and suitable for long trips, where the travellers could enjoy such comforts as curtains and quilted and reclining seats which could be changed into beds at night. Although the churriões were considerably more common in the Alentejo than in the Algarve, they were to be seen here. This one comes from the Albufeira area.

TRIP TANGO

The Trip Tango project was initiated in 2008 by students of the Music Department of Évora University. One of their objectives is the sound of the Tango but more specifically the music of the great master of the Argentine Tango, Astor Piazzolla.

The project was originally for accordion and piano but has recently included the violin and bass thus amplifying the range of sound and music. The group is made up of Jorge Caeiro - accordion, Selmo Carreira - piano, Rita Sousa - violin and Tiago Valentim - bass.
